Message from the President

Greetings Members!

Can you believe Fall is already around the corner? I can't! The CASA board is looking forward to next year and has already started planning our 2018 training calendar. We are asking you to provide your feedback via a survey so we can bring you the most effective and beneficial training possible. Please take a few moments to provide us feedback. In addition, we are still searching for the best training venue. Please be patient as we research different options. Lastly, we are looking forward to our fall training classes. We hope you enjoy the new instructors and classes.

Role of the Class Training Monitor

Every CASA class has a training monitor. The purpose of having a monitor is to ensure the class runs smoothly, assist the instructor with any logistical needs, be the liaison between CASA and the hotel staff, and more importantly, to monitor class attendance.

Since CASA offers CPE through NASBA, it is important that CASA provides the correct earned CPE to attendees. CASA needs to follow the NASBA guidance and remain in compliance with the guidelines.

NASBA requires CPE program sponsors to monitor group learning participation in order to assign the correct number of CPE credits. The CPE credit earned is based on the amount of time that is spent in training. While we know sometimes things come up and attendees are either late or need to leave early, CASA must reduce the CPE credit earned in those situations to comply with NASBA requirements.
